TRANSFORMING THE FACE OF INDUSTRY

For two decades, Women Building Futures (WBF) has been training and supporting women for careers in the trades. This fall, WBF will host its inaugural WORK PROUD SUMMIT – this event will include a diverse audience of men and women from various positions and sectors, including industry, training partners, community partners and government.

The WORK PROUD SUMMIT will challenge us to TRADE PERSPECTIVES as we showcase real life stories of innovation, action, and outcomes that create inclusive workplaces for all. Join us to share these “tools for change” and transform the face of industry.

The summit features some of the most influential speakers and panelists who will have frank conversations about what is needed to ensure future success when we strive to create diverse, respectful workplaces where everyone is empowered to succeed.
