

CCAB's Business Recovery Forum is a unique opportunity to discover innovative ways to network, collaborate and exchange ideas to rebuild businesses and prosper in this new reality and uncertain economy. This full-day event features interactive panels, engaging discussions, and keynote speakers delivering valuable insight and relevant content on how to successfully recover.

Using a visually engaging and interactive conference platform the Business Recovery Forum welcomes participation from Indigenous and non-Indigenous business leaders, governments, corporations, and institutional leaders, from across Canada and around the world to a dialogue and learning opportunity in order to share the very best practices to support Indigenous prosperity and well being.

Navigating through this economic crisis requires an innovative forum that can find solutions on how to move forward, explore new possibilities and strengthen our economy.

CCAB's Business Recovery Forum will provide experts in procurement and supply chains, high-profile keynote speakers, panelists and interactive discussions, one-on-one networking opportunities and valuable insight and knowledge.
