

BANFF

90 YEARS
1933-2023

CENTRE FOR ARTS AND CREATIVITY

CLASSICAL INDIGENOUS MUSIC RESIDENCY - SUMMER 2024

Program Information

This program welcomes Indigenous classical musicians and composers to either explore experimental elements, or accomplish finished productions of their work to the best of their capacity, in a fully supported environment.

Participants will have self-directed study time to work on their projects, and spend time gathering for presentations, workshops and to prepare to share works in progress together in a concert that will be part of the GATHER LISTEN HEAR Four Day Festival.

Who should apply?

Regional, national, global Indigenous music practitioners including: composers, singers, instrumentalists, scholars, students, provocateurs, disrupters, advocates pushing the boundaries of their artistic practice, artists that serve their community, artistic leaders in Classical music. While a university degree in the field isn't needed, you should be working or intending to work in the field.

Application deadline: April 24, 2024

Program Dates: August 06 - August 24, 2024

To be the first to know about upcoming programs, subscribe to our Indigenous e-newsletter: GotoInfo.ca/BanffCentreEmails

Melody McKiver and Cris Derksen, Indigenous Classical Music Gathering, Banff Centre 2019. Photo by Jessica Wittman

Canada Council for the Arts
Conseil des arts
du Canada

For details or to apply: GotoInfo.ca/Classical

Toll Free: 1-800-565-9989 | Phone: 1-403-762-6180
Email: IndigenousArtsAdmissions@banffcentre.ca

