

Join team EPCOR and find a career that matters in an organization where you matter.

As a growing North American utility company, we provide communities with clean water and safe, reliable energy. To make this possible, we need talented professionals and tradespeople of all skill levels and experience across Canada and the United States.

EPCOR is committed to partnering with Indigenous Peoples to create opportunities in training and education, employment and community development. There's a role for every skillset and we're always looking for enthusiastic and highly motivated people who want to achieve their potential.

We offer:

- a competitive compensation package
- great benefits
- professional development and education opportunities
- a safe and supportive work environment
- employee resource groups including 'Supporting People In Reconciliation of Indigenous Truths' (SPIRIT), a network dedicated to creating safe spaces for Indigenous and non-Indigenous employees to share, learn and grow together

On Team EPCOR, we believe in building an engaging, inclusive and diverse work culture that inspires creative thinking, innovation and adds value to our communities. Our organization is a place where everyone is welcome, and where you can bring your whole self to work. We are happy to provide reasonable accommodation during the selection process to meet your needs.
